SHARE REPORT.

Messrs. Vernon and Smyth in their weekly share report, dated 26th November, state:—

The local market has continued dull and lifeless throughout the past week, and rates, with few exceptions, have been barely maintained. Plantation Rubber after advancing in London to 3/7½ has receded to 3/3 and 3/4 for spot and 8 months delivery respectively, closing steadier. Standard Tin has declined to 216½ and 217½ for cast and 3 months respectively, and Bar Silver is now quoted at 56½. Sterling T.T. opened to-day at 1/10½, Shanghai T.T. at 74½, and Singapore T.T. at 81½. The Bank's buying rate for 3 3/4 bills on Shanghai is to-day 78.

Banks.—Hongkong and Shanghai have sold in small lots at 82½, and more are procurable at this rate.

Marine Insurance.—Unions have eased off, and close with small sales and further sales at 84½. Cantonese after small sales at 84½ are now obtainable to a limited extent at 84½. North China continue in request in the North at 170, and Yangtze at 220 with Ex 72.

Fire Insurance.—Chinas are unchanged at 81½ nominal, with small buyers at 84½ are now obtainable to a limited extent at 84½. North China continue in request in the North at 170, and Yangtze at 220 with Ex 72.

Shipping.—Douglases have sold at 88½ and 89½, and close with probable sales at the latter rate. Steamboats are wanted at 14½, and Star Ferries at 83½. Indo Chinas have been a neglected market throughout the period under review, and close with a nominal quotation of 81½ for the combined, the preferred being also nominal at 86½, and the Deferred 88½ sellers after sales at 89½.

Gold.—Shells have again been booked at 85½, and so far as we are aware, there are no further sales at this rate. Ural Carpans are on offer at 37½, and Lungs are procurable at 38½, probably 39½.

Refiners.—No business in this section has been reported, and rates are nominal at 112½ for China Sugar and 87½ for Lungs.

Mining.—Rams have been booked at 83½ and 85½, but otherwise there is no business to report, and quotations are purely nominal.

Stocks, Bonds and Gold.—Hongkong and Whampoa Docks after receding to 88½ have advanced to a buying rate of 89½ with sellers holding for higher rates.
Kowloon Wharves have also come into favour at the reduced quotation of 17½ for cash and equivalent rates for January, and higher rates would doubtless be paid.
In the North, New Engineering are in request at 8½, Shanghai Docks at 11½ and 12½, and Hongkong Wharves at 10½.

Lands, Metals and Building.—Hongkong Lands have been a dropping market, and after sales at 107 close with sellers at 106½. Humphreys have again been sold at 106½ closing with sellers at 107. Hotels continue in request at 108 but at this there are no sales. West Point and Kowloon Lands are unchanged and without business reported.

Cotton Mills.—The Shanghai market, owing to the settlement influences, has receded from the highest points reached during the interval under review.
The closing quotations being:—Kwong 17½ sellers, Kung Yik Tin 15½ sellers, and Kung Mow are quiet at 72. Internationals at 74, Soy Chees at 74½, and Yangtze at 82½.

Miscellaneous.—Diamonds after various sales down to 10½, perhaps even a higher rate would be paid. China Comes are wanted at 10½, Peak Trams at 82½, and Powells at 82½. Hongkong Trams are sold at 35.30 and Steam Memo.—Next Settling day—Dec. 2nd.

HOW BRITISH BOYS WENT INTO BATTLE.

Signor Marconi's Story.

Signor Marconi gave to a press representative in London a vivid impression of a recent visit to the Franco-British front, which he witnessed many incidents during the great advance. He has returned with anecdotes which tell their own story of bravery and courage. He says a high tribute to the French and British troops, and for "Eithers' men" he has the warmest praise.

"Just before the battle," said Signor Marconi, "I had lunch with the British Commander in Chief (Sir John French) and General Foch, and later I had a long chat with General Joffre and Sir Douglas Haig. The contrast between the two which I saw before and after the battle is one on which I need not dwell. I saw the British boys going into action, and I visited them in the hospitals afterwards, when they told me all about their experiences.

"Cheerful and high spirited, with smiling faces, they went to do their duty. Their departure was not without a touch of sadness and pathos all the same. They realised that these fine fellows the gravity, the momentous consequences attending the advance in which they were about to participate. May I say, I hope I shall be forgiven for this expression—that they realised their job much more than many of those at home.
To them it meant just one of two things—victory or death. I had a good look at them before they said good-bye. The troops were in the pink of condition and thoroughly well equipped. Their appearance was a splendid tribute to their training, and it is not saying a word too much to describe them as a model army.

In action they quickly established their superiority. The artillery, especially excellent. I stood behind the batteries at a critical moment, and my impression was that the German guns were unequal to the commanding view of the work of the officers. It is impossible to tell in words the cannonading which I saw and heard.
The roar of the guns from first to last was at once frightful and nerve-racking. It proceeded day and night until it was accomplished. Then came a lull in the terrible storm; the enemy's resistance had been overwhelmingly defeated, and lines after lines of trenches were captured.

"After the action I was astonished at the sangfroid of the wounded. 'I've done my bit,' said one maimed man; 'Hard luck,' said another; 'What a day! I was inured.' Never again. There was determination in every eye, and one and all, I am sure, would have gone through the same inferno again if their limbs had been spared.
In all I saw the spirit, the dash, the spirit of the true soldier, unconquered and unconquerable.

"In my conversations with the British and French Generals I was assured that wireless telegraphy has been extremely valuable."

RECEPTION IN LONS

Private W. E. Haynor Wilcock, of Leigh, who is in a Highland regiment, in a journal of the Lons battle which he has sent home says:—"I entered one house where some poor, frightened old French woman was hiding in the cellar. I shall never forget the sight. I saw a man One side of the house was hung as if by through the gap we entered. I backed the panel of the cellar door in with the butt of my rifle, and yelled down. 'Come out!'
'You cannot get up here,' said the old woman, and she wept and sobbed, and kissed, and wept again, but as soon as we were sure there were no Germans there we pressed on again."

THE NEW ARMY OFFICERS.

Referring to the officers of the New Army, Mr. Philip Gibbs says he has never before, there never could be, better men under fire, more impetuous on the threshold of death. Old officers who had already retired but still found themselves

YOUR BLOOD WANTS PURIFYING.

IF YOU are troubled with Eczema, Blisters, Spots, Pimples, Boils, Sores, or Eruptions of any kind continually burning through the skin.

IF YOU have that constant itching

All these are sure signs of clogging blood impurity, calling for immediate treatment through the blood, so don't waste your time and money on useless lotions and messy ointments, which cannot get below the surface of the skin.
What you want and what you must have is a medicine that will get right to the root of your trouble, a medicine that will thoroughly free the blood of the poison.
Mixture is just such a medicine. It is composed of ingredients which quickly attack and expel from the blood all impurities (from whatever cause arising), and by rendering it clean and pure, can be relied on to effect a lasting cure.

ANTIPON IN HONGKONG.

Spreading the Fame of the Great British Specific.

For Rapid Fat-Reduction.

THE burden of obesity is so distressing and so unappealing, and is generally so difficult to get rid of with any degree of permanence, that the introduction to Hongkong of the famous British Specific Antipon will be welcome in many quarters already. The preparation is not unknown here already, but the general public were necessarily kept in the dark. All difficulties are now removed.

One of the important discoveries of Antipon the treatment usually employed for the reduction of weight included starvation dietary rules, sweating and purging, together with mineral drugs. All these things are weakening to the system, and when obstinately persisted in, ruinous to the constitution. Antipon is diametrically opposite to such drastic methods.

To expect the superfluous fatty matter from the system is all very well, but the body must be simply nourished at the same time. Now, Antipon not only rapidly eliminates the excess of fat, but overcomes the aversion to food, therefore it comes Ample wholesome food, therefore it comes is no need to dread that the extra weight taken will bring about a re-development of excessive fatty tissue.

Every dose of Antipon is a sure step in the direction of the recovery of beauty of form and vigorous energy.

The decrease of weight is not a tedious process. Within twenty-four hours of the first dose there is a reduction varying according to individual conditions, between 3 oz. to 3 lb. The scales will be the unerring recorder. The daily decrease is eminently satisfactory. When normal weight and symmetrical proportions are regained the treatment is no longer necessary.

Antipon contains only the most harmless vegetable substances in solution, the liquid being in appearance like a light red wine.
It is palatable, refreshing, and slightly lax, and never occasions any unpleasant reactionary effects.

Antipon can be obtained at all drug stores, from stock or to order, or in case of any difficulty a large case will be forwarded direct from the Antipon Laboratories, Store Street, London, England, carriage paid, on receipt of remittance for 11 shillings, or 22 shillings.

vigorous when their country called; young men of 20 or 30 years, trained by the former in the traditions of the old army, all have given themselves body and soul to the fight. I know of one commander, 60 years of age, who was leading his fourth charge when he was killed, on September 25. Two others when their regiment was relieved on Sunday remained in the battle for their own pleasure until Monday.
When they returned they were told:

AFTER-WAR PROBLEMS.

State Socialism Likely to Continue.

Speaking at the London School of Economics on the social conditions at the close of the war, Mr. J. A. Hobson said that we must expect a period of considerable trouble if economic events were allowed to take their unbridled course.

Soldiers dumped down again in a civil life would not bring back habits of courtesy, discipline, and deference to those in authority. It had never been easy for civil society to readjust and assimilate discharged soldiers. Our problem would be particularly difficult for those men who have been nurtured not on the mere game of voluntary service, but would have imbibed habits of independent judgment, individual criticism, and even of enhanced personal dignity from that consciousness of the part they had played in saving the country. He saw in such men centres of discontent, eyes of political revolution, if economic circumstances and strong class government barred their path.

One terrible legacy of the war would be a permanent enlargement of the economic functions of the State. Though some of the nations elements of the Government upon private enterprise and some of the public control over capital and labour existed during the war, it would be a revoked, it was pretty certain that what was an experiment by State Socialism would be found to have made definite and lasting advance in several directions. It could hardly be supposed that the public regulation imposed upon our railways and our financial machinery would be simply swept away, leaving these highly-organized public services to the unbridled control of private owners, or that the other great regulated trades would simply swing back into their former conditions.

SIGNIFICANT CONFERENCE BETWEEN ROUMANIAN AND RUSSIAN REPRESENTATIVES.

ATHENS, Nov. 26.

From reliable sources it is learned that 250,000 Russian troops are concentrated in the Ismail region near the Roumanian frontier.

Bucharest journals state that a Conference is being held at Silistria, attended by the Roumanian Ministers of War, Public Works and Agriculture and the brother of the Premier. Russia is represented by Prince Urusoff, a well-known authority on the Near East.

According to the Matin (Paris) the Conference is discussing "All the contingencies to which a war may give rise on the lower course of the Danube."

ALLIES' REINFORCEMENTS.

Considerable Anglo-French reinforcements continue to arrive.

AN AUDACIOUS GERMAN OFFER.

A Salonika telegram states that the Germans offered to the Serbians to cease hostilities if the Germans were given free passage, and allowed provisionally to retain the conquered territory. Prince Alexander proudly refused.

AN APOLOGY FROM LORD DERBY.

LONDON, Nov. 26.

In a letter to the Times, Lord Derby expresses regret and sincere apologies for inferring in a speech on the 24th inst. that Lord Ribblesdale deliberately said something which might be of use to the enemy.

THE CHANCELLOR OF THE EXCHEQUER INTERVIEWED

LONDON, Nov. 26.

Mr. McKenna, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, in an interview published by the New York Tribune, states that long before Britain's money runs short the supply of German men will be exhausted. The permanent wastage of German soldiers is not less than 200,000 monthly and it therefore becomes a mathematical calculation as to how long Germany can continue to fight.

He contrasted the financial position of Great Britain, where the gold market was still free, with that of Germany, the payment of whose large liabilities was dependent upon an indemnity from her enemies, who could never be defeated. He emphasised that while the ability of Great Britain to pay her debts was practically inexhaustible, the ordinary machinery of payment was inadequate to meet the demands of the situation in the time required to realise the securities "but the securities are there and it was merely a question of time."

ENORMOUS SUCCESS OF THE NEW FRENCH LOAN.

TWENTY THOUSAND MILLION FRANCS IN ONE DAY.

PARIS, Nov. 26.

The whole of France is rejoicing at the success of the French Loan. On the first day it is already a victory. There is not a remote part of the country and not a single Frenchman who has not heard M. Ribot's (Minister of Finance) ringing appeal and grasped its meaning. A subscription of twenty thousand million francs in one day is regarded as a triumphant success for all the Allies.

M. Millerand says that every Frenchman is doing his duty by subscribing to the victory of the soldiers.

THE PERSIAN SITUATION.

DEALING WITH GERMAN MACHINATIONS.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 24.

A telegram from Teheran on the 23rd instant says that telegraphic communication with Kum has been restored. Major Helstrom, instructor of the gendarmes which was responsible for the bloodshed at Hamadan, has resigned. He explains that the conduct of the gendarmes was due to the interruption of the telegraph from Teheran; false reports of anarchy in Teheran, which was alleged to have been taken and burned by the Russians; and of fighting between the Russians and gendarmes and Persian Cossacks.

The Consul and other British subjects at Shiraz were taken to the mountains. It appears that prior to their departure, the Turkish and German diplomats had printed appeals to the Persian Government to the Governor announcing the approach of German troops towards Teheran and the departure of the Shah and the Government from the capital, accompanied by Turkish, German, and Austrian diplomats, holding Great Britain and Russia responsible for the consequences. Turkish and German agents at Kum are actively continuing their intrigues. Numbers of the Bakhtiari are continually arriving at Teheran.

Reuter learns from a well-informed source that the conspirators at Shiraz out the telegraph to that communication with Teheran regarding the authenticity of the alleged "orders" from the capital was impossible. The plot failed owing to the loyalty of the Persian Government, which was perfectly realised by Great Britain and Russia, whose relations with Persia were never more satisfactory.

There was every reason to suppose that German-Turkish influence would cause trouble at Hamadan. The Germans doubtless sought to make the most of any feeling due to the non-payment of the troops and may have expected help from the foreign officers. It is declared in Persian quarters that there is no reason to question the loyalty of Major Edwall, the Swedish officer commanding.

BRITISH FOREIGN OFFICE STATEMENT.

LONDON, Nov. 24.

A Foreign Office statement of the Persian situation, after recounting the incidents at Shiraz on the 10th inst., says that the British Consul, three members of the Bank staff, the Telegraph Superintendent, a British merchant, a Singapore clerk, and the Consular escort of ten Indian gendarmes were removed to the neighbourhood of Shiraz, where they are apparently in charge of Herr Wassmann. The gendarmes hold Kum in the interests of the Germans. They have seized and robbed Lynch's toll-houses, and robbed Russian subjects.

The British Consul at Hamadan, where the gendarmes, under Swedish officers, attacked the Persian Cossacks, left for Kasvin on the 23rd with the British Consul of Kermanshah and the British Colony. These outrages were done in defiance of the Persian Government and the investigation of German agents.

RECRUITING FOR THE NAVY.

LONDON, Nov. 26.

The Admiralty announces a system of recruiting for deferred service in the Navy similar to that of Lord Derby. Recruits will be divided into groups. Firstly, according to whether they are single; secondly, according to age. Groups will be called up as required in the following order:—Young single men; older single men; young married men; older married men.

UNITED NATIONAL PRAYER.

LONDON, Nov. 26.

The Lord Mayor of London has sent a letter to the Mayors and Provosts in which he says that, with the approval and cordial sympathy of the King and the representative head of the Churches he had decided to invite his fellow-countrymen to join in united National prayer on the 2nd January.

The general observance of this unique ceremony will be greatly encouraged if a corporate effort is made by the authorities of the various towns. He himself invites the Corporation of London to attend St. Paul's Cathedral on the 2nd January.

ITALIANS GRADUALLY ADVANCING.

ROME, Nov. 26.

A communique says that artillery and infantry activity was continued in Carnia and between the Adige and the Drents.

An Austrian aviator bombed Tolmezzo without doing any damage. Vigorous fighting continued to the north-west of Gorizia. The Italians extended their occupation of Calvario crest and took further trenches. The enemy's counter-attacks were repulsed. Some progress was made in Carso.

ALIEN ENEMIES IN INDIA.

Turkish Offensive Falls.

PARIS, Nov. 26.

A communique says that the Turks are displaying growing activity in the Dardanelles. They attacked on three occasions the British front on the 21st in an attempt to re-take lost trenches, but failed everywhere, the Turks being decimated by the British and French fire.

Underground warfare continues. French sappers blew up a Turkish tunnel.

The Turks maintained an intense gun, rifle, and grenade fire on Tuesday. They are, however, nervous, and are harassed by aircraft, which damaged the Constantinople-Dedagatz Railway.

Monitors bombarding the coast forced the Turks to maintain important forces.

THE RISE IN THE PRICE OF SILVER.

LONDON, Nov. 26.

Sir Samuel Montagu's weekly report on the Silver Market attributes the rapid rise in the price of silver to the announcement of the unexpectedly small size of the London stock, which had invigorated the Indian Bazaar.

The demand had caught the Chinese speculators napping and made America sell. The continued activity of the continental inquiry had also been a factor in the rise, while the purchases for home coinage had maintained each advance. Despite the abnormal figure reached, there were only small supplies available and the outlook was good.

A BOOK OF TOPICAL VERSE.

"Rhymes Without Reason," by Mr. H. P. Thurstield, a local resident (we had almost said poet!) has been published by Messrs. Kelly and Walsh in very dainty booklet form. Of the twenty-five sets of verses of which the booklet consists, several have already appeared in local newspapers. The collection, however, deserves to appear in its new and more permanent dress, and we have pleasure in recommending it. Many of the pieces refer to local topics and the author, having a "pretty wit," scores cleverly on several subjects well-known locally. Mr. Thurstield is more of a wit than a poet and therefore he does well to express his ideas in satirical vein. His versification is clever and amusing, and his satire never too severe. "The Breuze" and "The Beautiful Land of Dreams" show that the author can write seriously when he will. We have enjoyed the contents of this dainty little book, and we are sure that those who read it will likewise enjoy it. It may be obtained for seventy cents at the local book-sellers.
